VIRGINIANS NOMINATE REPUBLICAN TICKET

Full State for Gubernatorial Elections is Answer to Lilly White Tactics of Virginia Politicians. Large Delegation Present at Convention.

Richmond, Va., September 5, 1921. (National News Service of The Colored Republican).

The full slate for the gubernatorial election in November was made by acclamation in the Republican State Convention which convened in Richmond here on Tuesday, September 6th at 12 o'clock. The full slate follows:

Governor John Mitchell, Jr. Lieutenant Governor, Theodore Shack of Portsmouth. Attorney General, Ashton Dovell Newport News. Treasurer, Jas. T. E. Jackson of Staunton. Superintendent of Public Instruction, Miss Maggie L. Walker of Richmond. Secretary of the Commonwealth, J. C. Dinwiddie. Chairman Corporation Commission, Jack I. Field of Roanoke. Commissioner of Agriculture, A. Wm. Cooper of Petersburg.

Large delegations from each of the ten Congressional districts in the State were present and participated in all each action, which was a display in the Nation's political history, never in a State where Colored Americans are.

The convention was one of harmony and every place and action was made with enthusiasm Mr. Pollard of Richmond, who was given credit of praise for having brought such a representative and democratic gathering together, made a strong appeal of children from practically every town, city and country in the Old Dominion State, accompanied by women with babies sleeping.

In recognition of valiant service rendered the Party by the NATIONAL REPUBLICAN MOVEMENT, the State Committee elected a woman member from each of the ten Congressional districts.

The chair was plotted by Chairman Harry S. New of Indiana, who was thanked, who acted as Temporary Chairman of the Convention, Joseph Jackson Cephas of Norfolk, who made the party in Virginia and who made the fight at Chicago at the National Convention, Mr. Cephas was the author of all Resolutions without a dissent to cote, was elected State Chairman, Mr. Cephas made a speech that was acclaimed and delighted the aristocrats of the Norse which have supported the Democratic Party and Democracy when it had lost was some mind." R. R. Penn was re-elected Secretary of the Republican Party, he was acclaimed and delighted the Nation Chairman as Vice Chairman and Miss Lucy Thompson was re-elected Assistant National State Secretary.

The Convention authorized by special resolution its Chairman to call a State Convention of Colored Republicans, such a time in the Summer and advisable to consider and formulate a State Platform, which will be presented for the Colored Voters of America. It is expected that this Convention will be called by Chairman Pollard would vouchsafe no definite information as to the time and place of the Convention, but intimation adjourned this National Conference will call upon such state to be called by Chairman Pollard, and for organization of the proposed National Conference, and the referendum of the Colored Republicans of America. Chairman Pollard expressed himself as jubilant over the success of the Convention and said that his hopes and desires for organization and his dreams were all realized as far as the State was concerned. He also stated that his state was the most formidable aggregation of efficient workers he had ever seen, and that he was ready to begin the campaign the expedition with which the best Colored Republicans of America, and that he had never seen a more overwhelming and constant fight, and that he was ready to begin the campaign and to the times and for the and the dream of his shoulders. Mr. Pollard said that the Convention was made a state that he was no means worn down nor would be at any time, and that Virginia was one of the most important states in the Negro is fading—the cause of his disappointment is the fact that the Democratic Party has driven the Negro home as he wanted stopped in his tracks, and he is shifting back in his tracks to the Republican and its principles and its ideals, and he is shifting back in his tracks to the Republican Party because of efficiency and because it is seen as men and as women, capable of assuming the responsibility which is to be assumed.

In a final retrospect Chairman Pollard expressed the hopeless feeling up to the present situation and Chairman Harry S. New of Indiana, who was elected the secretary of the Chairman and Secretary H. H. Price, the Chairman of the Republican Party of Ohio, who made a stirring speech for the good of the cause and in his speech he said that "Ohio Republicans are Democrats and redeem themselves from the clutches of corrupers and hypocrites." Mr. Price said that he was sorry that he had to be elected, but said, "that we are where we are because of the fact that we have allowed crooked this cause and powerful man."

Howard Says Political Future of Negro at Stake

(By A. N. P.)

Washington, D. C., Sept. 15.—There is a story in Washington that there came a time there was a bronze goddess who was sent down to earth to do a work which was very short and, so, likewise wanted a fish for his dinner. He was sent down to earth from the supply and placed in fish in his big pocket, as he thought, on the way to the Mediterranean Sea. He was ignorant of the fish finally leaving to the bronze. The boss saw the Negroes leaving the Republican Party and said, "George Washington, "Now listen," said the boss, with a bronze face and a bronze voice, "I have a fish in my pocket."

President Warren G. Harding, representing the Republican Party, said to Republican Party, "George Washington, "Now listen." "Whitney" in his political pocket and I want you to see it, but so far as I know, I am not sure, I know that he will have to get a longer coat in the way of a Republican party, or get rid of the fish." said Harding, "I know that it is not a longer newspaper and I know that it is not a longer coat, I know that it is not a longer coat and talk with Bush, George Washington.

This well known fact here where politicians are well informed President Harding's position is given in this way "If I should go before the people with Whitney in my political pocket with reference to Colored Americans, they would spit in my face."

Some time ago the President the rights Negro, he serves in three traits what a critical and conservative Colored Republican Party, Colored Colored Republicans Friends Negro leader, and all other leaders who have been in the Republican Party, "Whitney" Lilly Lawn" in his political pocket and "Whitney" is not so far as I know, he will have to get a longer coat in the way of a Republican party, or get rid of the fish." said Harding, "I know that it is not a longer newspaper and I know that it is not a longer coat, I know that it is not a longer coat and talk with Bush, George Washington.

BLACK GIANTS WIN PENNANT

PANTHERS CLAW GIANTS IN FINAL SERIES — FIRST GAME SUNDAY WAS AN EXTRA INNING AFFAIR. HAYNES WON OVER RICHARDSON IN PITCHING DUAL. SHANKS PITCHES GREAT GAME, BUT LOSES TO REED.

In the final chapter of the nineteen twenty-one pennant chase the Fort Worth Black Panthers an amient for in local camp dropped the first game of the series 5 to 3 and proceeded to lose a double bill Sunday.

Before the mighty winds, the cat heavers swooped down on the Giants heavy artillery leaving a trail of destruction in their wake.

The first till was a pitching dual between Haynes of the Cats and Jim Richardson for the local Giants. Both were at their best and a commanding lead until first of the 9th; he weakened here and the Cats scored two runs tying the score and extending the game into an extra inning.

The visitors rub in three scorein their half of the 10th, but the Giants failed to register and the game was won by the Cats 7 to 6.

Panthers drew first blood, when first baseman, Larry Jones, first man up singled and later scored.

After Sloan and Goodrich went out in order to bat, Second baseman Reuben Jones, who had already made a hit, drew one on the roll of swat by connecting safely with one of Haynes' shafts for a four ply swat that cleared the right field wall of Marine field by three feet. It was a terrific drive time registering number one for the home squad.

Giants scored again in the fourth spasm of Richardson's single stolen base and Georgetown's error.

Richardson held the visitors scoreless until the sixth when Hardee was sent to mother; Richardson sacrificed and goes to third on Anderson fly to D. Johnson who scored later on Hodge's punch to right.

In the eight the local tribe announced another. Reuben Jones singles to cent, Richardson meri, flies, Lanier tore off a stanfo to center and Reuben scored. In the ninth Hardee hit safely to back field of the diamond, Jones made a single to center and steals second. Hardee drew a walk, Johnson, hit an easy one to short that Hamilton bobbled all hands and the bases were chocked. Anderson popped to Jackson and the ball in the field that fell safe, Gee and Hardee both scoring on the play. Johnson and Anderlin on second and third and unhearded for Hodge who was in a terrible tube but disappointed in the matter of weakening. Hodge popped to Richardson and Haynes whifted at three for the second out, Jones hotsted one to Williams and sides retired with two runs and a tie count.

Shanks doubled to left, D. Johnson bunted and Shanks was caught at third on Harrison relay to Lipsitz, Hamilton drew a walk, Richardson, Gaughy flew out and Harris was caught trying to steal second for the final out.

Tenth round—Panthers loomed up strong. Lipsitz hit off a single that slow fielding enabled to be stretched into a double. Reed fanned. Sloan gets another trip to the bag. Harden smashes one but for "Shanks" to hand-to and Lipsitz scored; Johnson connected for a terrific drive that was saved by Shanks. Anderson popped to pitcher, Hodge sent to Liston jones for final out. Haynes was never more in danger and the Giants made a feeble effort in the tenth as the shadows apparently had already been stored away on lo by the Panther tribe.

Linton Jones made a beautiful trip to "Georgetown" with two down and a man on third. Rich Gee holsted one a mile high and Boyd who has tripped to left raced for home plate, Linton made six feet pop to catcher Williams and completed a double and cut off a score.

Gee was pitted against Shanks in the second contest and the Wichita Falls marvel was invincible for 7 innings he pitched; he allowed a five between in an equal number of hansas. Shanks, Giants star first baseman, pitched a brilliant brand of ball and deserved a hard luck break even in the battle. His support was well balanced catcher, Rich Gee's timely swat brought the only tally of the game.

NEW BASE BALL CHAMPIONS SUFFERED MANY CASUALTIES.

Brought Home The Bacon Just the Same. Many of its Stars Were on Hospital List All Season.

The nineteen twenty-one champion base ball season is over and the team bearing the pennant honeyed the coveted trophy.

The Dallas Black Giants, although handled as the new champions by dame fortune, suffered many casualties during the season. Not a game, not even a double bill on Mon., was under a severe handicap. The team during all season many casualties and at the time of the close season was a regular line up in a single game, with the exception of Williams, Lipsitz and Gaughy, the club sailing in the game with a crippled outfit and was a large per cent of the time.

The pitchers were going had from the start, Shanks, the ace of the club had to depend on the box work of Reed, Richardson and Haynes, the latter labored with a shattered right and outfield and along the last the outfield was rounded into a pitching staff and to say the least the boys on an effective one as a experience absence were badly needed to hold the pennant.

The first sitting catcher Colonel Williams was sidelined for the first round and after box was equal to the occasion, Gee, the Giants, in the remaining half of the season, he turned in several wins for the home team. Harris was another recruit pitcher that got a chance to pitch, Harris, known as pitcher on "Georgetown," drew the heavy end of the bat against Joyce, he lieve us this bird caught napping and was called on to relieve Georgetown filled the gap in grand style. Oh, many times we do, fitted the timely drive that broke games. His work all season has been commendable.

Shank's return to local bath was joy to fandom. He was in trim when he hit town having played all season with the big time boys around New York, Philadelphia, Boston and other eastern bings and upon his arrival he was the tip top form.

Lisson Jones, who has been part of the Giants for many seasons before Shank's appearance made a creditable fixture, he was not a regular but he was called often and meet with a timely bingle when a run was needed. Jones was in reserve and in the Houston series, he pitched one of the grandest games of the season and got away with a shutout.

"Yank" Harris, the locals fleet, footed outfielder, was another recruit under a great stride. He was crippled, he was hobbled all season. He was a bear on the pasture and was a sensational fielder. His work in fielding was brilliant and far above par.

Reuben Jones, star outfielder and guardian of the right onterfield for the local club was the idol of the Black Babe Ruth of the Colored Circuit. This bird has been phenomenal in smashing the ready walloping for the bases. His home runs drives have been timely this season. Jones is a consistent hitter and thinker. He is definitely the most dangerous slugger in the loop.

Lorrie Jones, the local star bat man has been a valuable asset to the club all season. He has been very sick at times but refused to quit the game, he donned his spiks, glee and jerred the diamond. He is fast and accurate, a great fielder and nice fielder, he was cool and cunning, he was a terrible hitter, he was a real keystone guardian, he is a fast fielder, a quick thinker, he is a hitter and a timely hitter. His work at second, before his illness, was the feature in many games. He is one of the game's greatest stars.

Hamilton, The Giants regular short stop, has been shocked to pieces at season and that brilliant work he is capable of doing fell down on the field and of the same due to his illness. He is yet on the sidelines. Hamilton is the backbone of the corner, known as third base, is as fast as they get to be. This kind very often errored but went after "em in every chance of any cost, anywhere, any time. He is an accurate thrower and a corking good hitter. He works on the corner.

Gee, the catcher, Jesse Gee, is a real catcher, he is good in all phases in the running gear of the game. Gee is a hitter, he is a fielder, he is a mindred the strategy and the brain of the whole "shiaang." He is steady, quick thinker and a wise old see is inside base ball. It was he who marshalled forces of the pennantwinning Giants. Gee is good for Davy and his boys!

CHURCH, SOCIETY, LOCAL AND PERSONAL MENTION

ST. JAMES A. M. E. TEMPLE NOTES.

The more than two weeks entertainment during which time a program was rendered each night and a Banner conducted in the Sunday School, morning and evening worship and members of the church do not know how to express their gratitude to the many friends that made up the program. Not one program failed. Monday night September the 7th was Woodman night. Owing to the illness of some of the children, the "Tree Thumb Wedding," which was to be one of the features of that night had to be left out, but John Williams soon found sufficient substitutes and the entertainment was carried off in fine form. Tuesday night, Mrs. Williams will stage the wedding at some future date.

The Vernie People's night was a brilliant success despite the fact that several of the young people who had important parts had to be away as they were detained by the Sunday School Convention. Miss Charity Mae Moore by the use of her mighty wax object short program prevented the disappointment of many people of her ability to render them over. As was stated last week, we decided to change the Lowery night to a date when Mr. Lowery could be present in person. Through the kindness of Mr. Vernie Johnson an his most excellent band a great entertainment was furnished us from seven to eight o'clock. There were fifteen charmed the audience—the band was the center of the group who got off late from their work and could not get home in time to attend concert at 7:30 but later by their help and employment from that time on. We take this method of thanking Mr. Johnson and each one of his men.

The entertainment closed with music wishing that it might have come an hour, but many of the working forces were tired. The decorations were soon removed and Sunday morning found everything normal. The Sunday School was called to hold its session in the basement as usual. The Rev. Mr. Hezekiah H. Wade—Los Angeles, Calif., was present according to appointment and delivered to the congregation an excellent sermon, at the close of which one young woman professed a hope in Christ and joined the church. Rev. Wade said that he never preached a sermon that gave one was not converted. The Rev. delivered had many of his children in the audience and in audience who came to hear him preach.

In the afternoon Rev. L. M. Hughes, State President of the Missionary Society of the A. M. E. Church and Connectional Secretary of W. H. F. Society, was present and delivered a most telling message to the local missionary workers. Mrs. Hughes is among the most able women of our race and her address was an honor future to be presided of the Connectional Work. Due to the disagreement of the preacher workers did not get together in complimentary numbers to hear Mrs. Hughes but Mrs. C. W. Abington, who is the president of the North Texas Conference Branch and also City Missionary Alliance plans to have Mrs. Her Hughes return to the city in the near future when an appointment will be afforded to talk to all the workers of the city.

The total results of the entertainment has not been gathered up to this time, but will be ready for the next issue of the paper. As was stated some weeks ago, this effort was only designed to mark the beginning of the great rally that is staged for the last Sunday in October. The members met in goodly numbers Monday night and plans were made for paying off the debt of two thousand ($2,000) dollars. Each member of the church is to raise $25.00. Some fine prizes have been given by the various merchants for this which will be an exhibition until the effort closes.

St. James ask his friends to continue to help her until she can get on her feet—she is inherited hard to that end. If she can raise the ten thousand dollars the new debt look much better for her. One thing we know, we have seen what God what has done with your money. The results are there. "It would be a great thing if every member of the RAFC in the city would give ONE DOLLAR toward the debt and tell it over, that the church might NOT be hampered in their activity.

The plans voted to create Mrs. Curtis, a woman whose husband is confined with paralysis and leaving small children. The affair was set for Saturday evening, and at 4:15 Saturday evening members of the club assembled at the home of Mrs. H. Lemmons, president, and left to the home of Mrs. Curtis. She was given $5.00 in cash and an assortment of groceries. There were dinnes in works for fallen humanity.

At its annual meeting held on Mayn of Mrs. Mollie Harrison in Allen street, Friday night, Sept. 9, the club raised in cash $51.18 and had more than a hundred dollars pledged.

The effective work done by this club is receiving the highest commendation by Dallas citizens at large.

GOLDEN CHAIN GRAND LODGE VERY STORMY.

Removal of Supreme Officer Causes Making of Serious Charges on Cabinet Claim Money Shortage.

The Supreme Lodge of the Golden Chain of the World convened in annual session Monday morning, Sept. 12th at 10 o'clock, with Supreme Knight T. E. Tolos presiding. From 150 to 200 delegates were in attendance. Much routine business was accomplished and several talks were made for the good of the craft. Many resolutions and petitions were presented, and took much time in the early proceedings.

On Tuesday evening the welcome reception took place in the auditorium of the Pythian Temple.

Mrs. Portia Washington Pittman conducted the musical program in which the Scott Brothers rendered a number of selections. Rev. W. L. Dickson was the Master of ceremonies.

Appointment of Committees.

The following is a list of the committees appointed:

Mileage, Laws, Memorial, Slate and Credentials committees.

While the opening session was filled to the brim with enthusiasm many rumors are afloat to the effect that the remainder of the grand session will be a stormy one.

Tuesday afternoon all delegates not belonging to the Inner Council were dismissed and the trial of J. W. Jeffrey former Supreme officer, was taken up.

Rumor has it that severe charges have been so confidently expected that a call was placed for peace officers to be near the place where the meeting should pass beyond the control of presiding officers.

Counter charges ostensibly made by J. W. Jeffrey were counted upon by a faction oriented during the week in Supreme Lodge.

Charges and a counter charges are expected later in the session.

W. W. Gunnels, former editor of the Golden Chain Squall, is on the ground making an attempt to air his charges of unfair conduct against Supreme officers.

It appears that so far, his attempts to entrance into the Grand Lodge have met with failure.

Rumors from the statements of several of the delegates present very little actual business is being taken up in the session as yet.

Rumors of financial difficulties, charges and counter charges of graft of all kinds are afloat. But the truth or falsity of them can not be determined until the financial reports are made public. It is claimed by some that the order is in dire financial straits.

has never hoisted the white feather, neither has it been disgraced by the yellow streak. It is not affiliated with the flannel mouth. It is a plain, every day, sensible, commonsense newspaper, which tries to sail with the catch line nothing true; files no doubtful flag: It professes a patriotism as broad as our country. Its love of even handed justice covers all the territory occupied by the human race. This is pretty high ground, but we live on it and are prosperous. Bone of the cross come up and stand with us. THE PARENTS MUST HELP

The opening of our public schools Monday gives rise to a thought suggested by every teacher at some time during every school year in regard to the best means of obtaining the practical co-operation of parents in the training of their children.

The school of Dallas has 40 Mothers' clubs or Parents' Associations to co-operate with teachers and school officials in the direction of their children.

Do parents feel that their co-operation is not necessary?

Do they substscribe to the false theory that "the teacher is paid to rear the child?"

Or have they failed of practical organization because of lack of leadership or belief that their efforts would not be welcomed by teachers.

Present day life has rendered the satisfactory control of children well high impossible without definite and well directed efforts on the part of parents at co-operation with school officials.

The child who feels that the parent is not concerned about his conduct, his progress, his home, his comfort, his child with whom the teacher has the greatest amount of trouble.

Such trouble with children of this sort (and if rights of human beings are true, it is increasing every year) can be materially reduced and more efficient service rendered to parent and student if more co operation be secured from parents with teachers.

Now is this all.

The organization of school grounds and buildings, the improvement of school yards, the planting of increased facilities could result from an association, composed of parents working with teachers along these lines.

Is it a thing worthy of more than passing consideration.

Are school yard improvements.

May all parents remember that the greatest contribution to a child's success in after life is educating. He by time, to school and at home. They will be thankful for it in after years.

Prayer will strengthen men's spirits and cleanse their souls, but money is necessary to their comfort and life on this earth.

If we govern our thoughts about our neighbors we will be less concerned about the thoughts of others concerning us.

Winter weather has no respect for those who wasted the summer earnings.

A pauper opinion against newspaper is more powerful than written statement.

Any fool can knock, but it takes a thinking man to construct.

It is better to be than merely to appear to be.

Success never attends habitual wrasting.

OUR LEAGUE.

Another outgrowth of a consideration of the National Negro Business League meeting is the realization that though the meeting was made up of delegates from all over the country—Dallas, the metropolis of the South-west was not represented by any person officialy sent by a local league.

Why?

Are we to feel that it soon began to be considered as of no account when it ceased to specialize in parades and banquets?

Is the criticism that we are a people who believe in appearances only to be proven true by our actions?

Why does our business league not function?

There are more than one hundred places of business in Dallas owned and operated by our people which should, if properly considered, become so correlated as to be a unit of financial power and a credit to the life of the city.

A real business league could bring it about if it functioned properly but so far, it has seemed that our proprietors of businesses have been content, so to speak, to stay in their "corners," never advertising to any appreciable extent, never attempting to formulate plans for better collaboration, better methods of financing, extension of their credits or improvement of their businesses.

Their places of businesses are and unless more co-operation is provided, will remain, "one man plant"—never growing—never developing.

America is primarily a country of business. And Dallas stands in the forefront of the American cities which have developed and become powerful because of a practice by their merchants and business men of co-operation and organization.

We, in Dallas have before us for study everyday an example of what a business league can do if properly managed and maintained.

Why can we not profit difinitely from it?

Why can we not really awake to the opportunity for progress which lies in sensible consideration of our relation to each other in business way.

Our business league needs to awake to its possibilities.

It cannot start any earlier.

COLD CALCULATION HAS ITS PLACE.

Some sage of long ago said "a man is a slave until he thinks, and then he is a master." This is a fact which constitutes incidents in history bear out. It is no less true of individuals than of races.

When men think they become independent of others and lords of their own fates.

The progress of the world has been caused by thinkers—men, who in the study of those affairs which concerned them and their people, used fact and discarded feeling and actually brought things to pass.

We are rightly called an emotional people. We are cheered by kindness, are enthusiastic in our support of our friends and cry any and all conditions.

It is good that we are so for in the stress of conditions such as we have seen and passed through another sorts of disposition would have been provocative of disaster to ourselves and our hopes.

But the time now is when to that cheerfulness of disposition and long suffering spirit we must add the strong mind of the mass and its leaders. We must form those thought habits which will cause us to cease being visionary to the point of becoming impracticable.

We need more cold, hard calculating minds at the head of our affairs. We must cultivate leaders and followers too, whose adherence to a cause or advocacy of any proposition will be determined by facts well established and carefully observed. For in these days we face facts—not theories. And the successful determination of our status demands that they be courageously faced.

Racial pride that is theoretical only is of no account to us.

Self appointed leaders who are favorites because of their speech rather than their practices do us no good.

An outward show of any quality which does not exist in fact is harmful and must be avoided.

Clear thinking will cause us to realize that these things are so and that those things for which we hope must be attained by means of seeing things as they are.

For instance all of us may feel that the poor among us should be taken care of by our more charitable but our charities can do this only as we give actual money to them.

We all feel that Y. M. C. A., quarters are desirable. They are. But they can come only as we really establish them.

Business houses, banks, in fact all of the things that are held up to us as indicative of accomplishment cannot be talked or bluffed into existence they must be thought out and planned for definitely.

We must begin to feel less and think more. If we are to become masters, we must add more cold calculation to our patience and perseverance.

INDICATIONS OF PROGRESS.

A recent census bulletin relative to farm ownership in the counties of Bell, Collin, Dallas, Delta, Ellis and Falls shows that the number of Negro farm owners has materially ingressed during the past ten years.

The percentage of increase for Negroes is as follows: Dallas, 34.2; Collin, 77.8; Ellis, 42.2; Bell, 34.1; Delta, 33.8; Falls, 13.8.

The facts as shown by these figures are indicative of a steady and sure progress and an economic independence much to be desired.

Ownership of land are thrifty. They contribute much toward the welfare of those among whom they live.

They are assets to any community for they produce more than they consume.

It is to be hoped that our progress in this direction in Texas may be even more marked than it has been during the past, it now is.

The acquiring of land and the efficient production from it of those things much needed by the rest of the world mark the producer as a potent factor in the great national scheme.

Statistics seem to show that in 200 years the Negro will be distributed in America. We hope that this conclusion may be considered fallacious by the wider spread of public health instruction and more sanitary methods of living.

The projects of the world have been built upon differences of opinion between men. A difference of opinion properly considered may become a benefit.

Wherever men live together differences will arise. Men of sound judgment seek to adjust them by means which are conducive to the well being of all concerned.

The fact that heirs of Jake Hanson, age old magnate received $465,000 because should encourage wives to urge their husbands to carry as much as possible.

Those who are truly discontented with their lot study to improve it and work constantly toward that end.

A perusal of any dailey paper seems to prove that Europe has no monopoly on disturbances.

Too many of us apply the self preservation theory to individuals only.

The value of advertising lies in the regularity with which it appears.

When wise men are forewarned they are forearmed.

Preservation of public health is always in order.

There are more fools than old fools.

THE MIRROR of PUBLIC OPINION

NEGRO'S DIMINISHED INCREASE.

The slight gain in Negro population as shown by the census report which appeared elsewhere in this issue gives especial notice in the South. It is natural that that section should be especially interested in the subject and there should be an attempt to explain the figures in order to arrive at their meaning and what they portend. The Charleston (S. C.) News and Courier directs attention to what the figures disclose. Taking the South as a whole, for every Negro added to the population in the 1910-1920 decade 22 white persons were added. This is a startling disparity when it is considered that in all the Southern states there is a large Negro population and in one or two the Negroes exceed the whites. The rate of gain in the Negro population is only half that of the previous decade. This might be explained on the ground that Negroes are migrating to the North as it is well known that there has been a great movement in this direction. However, such an explanation is contradicted by the statement that records in North Carolina show that not only has the Negro birth rate been declining actually and also relatively to the white birth rate but that the death rate has been increasing both actually and relatively. This leads the News and Courier to ask, "Is the Negro in America dying out?"

In answer to the question it is claimed that the Negro exhibits less resistive power when attacked by disease. Tuberculosis is particularly fatal. It is asserted, however, that this may be due to the less sanitary conditions surrounding the homes of the Negroes. Were the environment conductive to the extermination of tuberculosis removed it surely would have an effect in diminishing the deaths from that disease. The conclusion of the Southern newspaper is to the effect that if the rate of decrease in the increase of Negro will cease to exist in 200 years. If the Negro rate is being decimated as rapidly by disease it is certain that steps will be taken to check its ravages by teaching methods of preventing disease and conserving health. The Southland would be the first to demand relief were there real danger of the disappearance of the Negro, for that section needs him despite the treatment sometimes accorded. When it is demonstrated that what is alleged to be begun is clearly in progress the remedy for the evil will be taken. The Negro will be preserved for the fulfillin a mission in our industrial economy.—Pittsburgh Gazette.

NOT SECTIONAL; NATIONAL

A Correspondent calls attention to the fact that in Wise County, Virginia, a few days ago a white man was sent to the penitentiary for three years for charge that he assisted in lynching a Negro who had confessed to attacking an aged white woman.

The correspondent rightly thinks that it will do the North good to consider this incident, and says "Let people in the North, in the other section of the South, which will not tolerate mob violence, even when the victim is a Negro."

It will do the North good to know what the South is doing to end lynching, and it will do the South good to know that the North is no longer so firm-set in its convictions that the crime of lynching is a sectional one. Both North and South should know of every move toward ending this barbarous crime. The action in Virginia should be noteworthy—perhaps even unusual, but it is not unique. The South is beginning to fight Judge Lynch and the North should begin to back him.

It is just as well for both sections to take note of two recent incidents. The other day twenty-six members of a lynching party were sentenced to mob with gentles, a Massachusetts Sheriff was battling to save three Negroes from a mob.

In the hope of balance, we will remember that this thing is not sectional. Massachusetts knows it and Ohio, Illinois, Missouri and Nebraska, Kansas and Texas. The South is backsliding in the matter of punishing Negro lynchings; but Judge Lynch has held court many, many times in the North, West and Middle West.

Lynching has become a national rather than a sectional evil. Its roots go deep; but deep as they go, they can be damned and blighted by the spirit of justice and the spirit of love. The spirit of justice and love come from the will of the people; and it is the will of the people that must be reached, awakened and tempered.—Philadelphia Ledger.

AGITATION.

Doubtless most people in the United States do not realize how much propaganda intended to excite resentment and discorder among the Negroes is being disseminated by Communistic and Socialistic agitators, and by organizations as the Industrial Workers of the World. Now, agitation intended to stir up turmoil cannot, of course, be a benefit to anyone. The stimulation of people to hatred and resentment against other people or races cannot help to bring about any satisfactory sense of quality. The Industrial Workers of the World are trying to stimulate what it calls a class consciousness among the poor and ignorant, without realizing that it would be a contribution instead of a curse to humanity if people, left to themselves, therefore, including especially their intelligent journalists, who deplore anarchistic agitation, need to relist such propaganda. While lynching and mobs are to be most earnestly deplored, they are not the cause of general misunderstanding, jealousies, and condition is not the remedy for it. Such actions come from those who do not understand the causes and conditions that have to be dealt with there, and tends only to make the problem more serious.

The problem of agitation among the Negroes will not be solved, of course, by any mere resentment and attempt at suppression on the part of people. It is the first resentment and attempt at suppression that caused lynching. Those who see the danger of the incitement of the Negroes to violence must realize that the cure for it calls rather for reasoning and wise cooperation. This is the only preventive for any threatened war of classes. Reason and cooperation may seem to be slow, with one, when a little of the truth presented to the attention of those concerned, and there is the rub. Yet the way of presentation of the basis on which races can live side by side in peace and in the end, will be found to be the way which will need to be convinced. Among the Negroes themselves the first to be reached by such presentation of the truth will be those who are most influential among them of that race who will know how to be of real service to the many.

When a magazine, evidently controlled by the Industrial Workers of the World, can write of the Negro as follows: "American Negroes are lynchable," another page to an oath phrased in inflamatory language, and some of the Negroes read it, it is easily understood that it will be of a type to be helpful either to Negroes or to other people in the remedying of wrongs. Then, however, it may be remembered that "Propaganda is propaganda" and it is giving good advice, though reading, to be beneficial in the working out of social problems, must consist of books dealing with affairs in a composed way, and not of pamphlets and magazines of a nature that will be the sort to rouse passions and bring about general turmoil. In fact, the flamboyant style of the third is evidently modeled on that of some of the books which it advertises. This particular magazine is merely typical of those which are based upon "Propaganda" and which are the sort of agitation of opinions in a democracy; there is the right way in which false opinions can be replaced with an understanding of the truth. In a democracy there is no other way. Force, which is, which can never be found in any form of anarchy. The discernment and achievement of this may seem slow, but it is the way of peace. The Negroes themselves need to be made understand that any injustice done them cannot be overcome by mere word, followed with hatred. A great number of people, whether they speak or mean, in dangerous rather than helpful, and is to be avoided by those for whom it is intended.—Christian Science Monitor.

KEEP YELLOW BACKS OUT.

There is one reason for excluding the Orientals from residence and land ownership in the United States which is sufficient

This is a white man's country and white self-protection demands that it be kept a white man's country.

We have, it is true, a Negro population. But the forefathers of these black people were brought here against their will, and have by long years paid themselves have no other country and are, therefore, morally and legally entitled to their residence and citizenship.

But there is no analogy at all between recognizing the claims and rights of these native-born Negro citizens and recognizing the Claims—not the Rights—of these yellow foreigners who clamor for for admission to America. No analogy at all. Not a bit.

Any attempt to expel the Negro population would be not only illegal but also wicked and cruel. If such a thing were possible—and no sane white man dreams of it—the expulsion Negroes would have no land to go on, no home to seek, no place of refuge.

But all that is demanded of the yellow man is that they do not come in—not that they be driven out. The Negro belongs here, where he was born, and where he is a useful citizen. The yellow man does not belong here, and he never becomes a real American citizen if he is permitted to come here.

So that we state only a fact when we say that this is a white man's country—even though it does not exclude the Negro citizens.

The Negro is no menace. He is loyal. He is a willing and a free man and a productive worker in peace. But the yellow man is a menace. He is not and he cannot become an American citizen. He is a foreigner, and in the case of the Japanese his whole loyalty is to Japan, in peace and in war.

Our Pacific Coast is overwhelmingly white. It wishes to remain so. And every probability of the future demands that it should remain so.

The western coast is our outpost on the Pacific. When the final struggle comes for the safety of American commerce on the Pacific, the three great states must bear the brunt of hostile attack. It is absolutely necessary that they shall have then a loyal and courageous white population, not embarrassed by the presence of thousands of yellow enemies, fanatically loyal to a hostile nation.—Chicago Herald-Examiner.

By P. S. Rodgers, Opt. D.

Glasses are a necessity for our vision, for almost everybody past the age of 40 years. Some need them at an earlier age, but most people at 40 years, although there may also be such cases of defective vision, which manifest themselves in early childhood, the cause, due to a hardening of the crystalline lens, which is a natural organic change that is beyond human manipulation.

The cause may also result from a change in the shape of glasses, something with which they can read well, but distant objects, they can not see clearly. The cause, in this manner, is apt to be far from right, and the remedy, therefore, is not a matter of guesswork, but a matter of detection, and the lenses for reading glasses, should be made to offset as well as the deficiency in the vision for distant objects. The detection by the wearer basedcon at the time.

The charge of glasses, if there is a defect, should first be determined, and then, if the defect is found, it is a simple matter to have the lenses made to truth. Then the additing needed for the reading glasses, can be carefully determined. The reading lenses thus enhance distant defects, and vice versa. In addition, to determine the correct lenses, it is best, by picking out a pair of glasses that seem to be adapted to the case, and then, by trial, determine the correct lenses.
