BUSINESS MEN PLAN CRUISE OF WEST INDIES

CLEVELAND, OHIO, May 23—A winter cruise to the West Indies, in which white and Colored races will participate on equal terms, is announced by the Aladdin Cruise Corporation of this city. Distinguished Negro leaders have welcomed the project as a great step forward in race co-operation and have promised their support.

The cruise will take 70 days, leaving New York on January 15 and returning February 15. Eight stops will be made at the principal ports of interest in the West Indies and Venezuela in South America, at all of which these will be carefully prepared plans for short excursions. Some of the stops will include two days ashore and some will be for longer periods.

The United American Liner, Mt. Clay, has already been chartered for the cruise. It will be taken out of the North Atlantic service at the end of the regular passenger season and completely refurnished and re-decorated in uniform cabin style, assuring the very best of accommodations. The entire passenger capacity (for first-passenger cabin accommodations) will be limited to 400, which should mean more room and a better time.

There will be no second-class or third-class. Everybody will enjoy the best that the ship affords. The Mount Clay is one of the few trans-Atlantic liners carrying the American Flag. Before the war she had a distinguished name in the German merchant marine.

The Aladdin Cruise Corporation has engaged Dr. John Roach Straton, author of "When Black Meets White," as director of the cruise—as a mission which he accepts gladly; for such a cruise as this has long been one of his cherished dreams. Besides his literary work, Dr. Straton is a great traveler, having participated in many cruises around the world and twice, often as a director.

"It is my belief that this is the means of travel" he says, "because it adds to the broadening effect of sightseeing, the influences of communionable. In the hour of the day

NEGRO WORK PUSHED AT PRESBYTERIAN CONFERENCE

PHILADELPHIA, PA., May 24—It is understood that the concerted efforts to have the Presbyterian Church of the South co-operate and more effectively interest in the place of the negro work which the general assembly is to be made at the meeting of the Presbyterian General Assembly, which is to be held in Grand Rapids, Michigan, starting Thursday, May 22.

Leaders in the church point to the early splendid growth of Presbyterianism toward the unsanctioned place and point with much degree of pride to what the church of that day of Presbyterianism in the south. However a tendency to overlook the main interest of the church's work in foreign missionary fields, to the detriment of domestic work that might be taken up with much advantage.

Of the 47 synods and 799 presbyteries of the church in America, 4 synods and 16 presbyteries are in churches, constitute the Negro constituency of the church. The church has among negroes 197 day schools with three outstanding colleges, and 10 academies, and 15,000 pupils.

It is claimed, however, that contributions and appropriations have been greatly reduced, despite the fact that the need is increasingly great. The emphasis in the church work is placed on that among the Italians, Czecho-Slovaks, Poles, Jews and Mexicans in the United States. New work, leaders in the synod are saving for the Negro should be undertaken and fostered in large centers. New York City, it is pointed out, with upward of 10,000 Negroes in the Harlem District, has only two churches with other large centers where there is no work being carried on.

SOUTHERN BAPTISTS REFUSE TO DISCUSS RACE QUESTION

Invitation to Conference With Northern Churchmen Meets With Flat Refusal. Declare That Such a Conference Would Complicate its Situation

ATLANTA GA., May 19—For some time there has been a tendency on the part of a great number of southern whites to confer with a few of the northern white churchmen with the view to ascertain the attitude of northern Baptists on the matter. It was brought before the convention here but Wednesday by the executive committee.

The committee voted its determination to handle the Negro problem in the south without aid from the northern white churchmen and to say how it should be handled without the concurrence or consultation with the Northern Baptist Convention or any organization. Other action was taken declared that it was not a place of the conference or consultation with the northern churchmen to endeavor to intrude themselves into the affairs of the south as regards the Negro. They know this Negro better than anybody else and else how to handle his best. We don't need any outside advices or help in taking care of the situation" one member declared. The convention finally declined to accept the proposal and refusal to accept stating that it would complicate a situation already delicate enough."

EXCAVATION FOR ODD FELLOWS TEMPLE IS NEARLY COMPLETE FOUNDATION TO BE LAID SOON

HOUSTON, TEXAS, May 24—The shove outs show the site of the new Odd Fellows Temple at Houston as it appeared a few days ago when ground Master Gorse and his aids were visiting in Houston on business connected with the convention. The work of excavation is completed and the foundation will be finished in a few days and the laying of the foundation began.

The starting of actual work on the building was fraught with more obstacles than could have been imagined when the proposal was first made to erect the building there and the site purchased.

"From the Grand Master and his cabinet decided upon that site and have purchased it by the elements in the business district of Houston, they found it to feel that the erection of a building would meet the approval of the whole city of Houston and the state at large. But such was not the case.

When it became known that the Grand Lodge was planning to build a temple on the property, obstacles of various kinds began to make their appearance. First, there was injunction gotten out by a supposed heir to the land which had been sold to the Grand Lodge, but it was clear. Then it happened that there were many offers on the part of the white citizens of Houston to purchase the land. But none of the offers seemed sufficient to move the governing body of the Order to sell.

Later it developed that there would be some trouble in obtaining a permission of the state officers to allow the Grand Lodge to finance its own concern and the work of construction without outside aid.

During all of these hindrances the officers were busy with the work

Baptist Pastor Regains Vigor of Youth by an Easy Method

MADE vigorous again after being on the down grade 14 years! Made "young" again after he had almost surrendered to "old age," which had come to him too soon! Made strong, capable and happy again, after he had given up all hope!

This has been the joyous experience of the Rev. George R. Pinckney, according to a recent statement issued by the prominent Baptist pastor of Bay View, Jersey.

No "gland operation" was performed; no expensive methods were employed to restore to him the abundant powers of his prime, the Rev. Mr. Pinckney explains. Instead, he was simply induced to try a remedy—a combination of youth in a simple method anybody can use at home, safely and secretly. This is the recently discovered Kruss treatment, the basic principles of which were developed by famous European specialists.

"In the fourteen years of my decline," says Dr. Pinckney, "I tried everything recommended for such cases—every operation and treatment a poor man could, or couldn't afford—and was brought relief. I continued to decline more swiftly each year until Providence brought Kruss compound on its wings.

"I was naturally skeptical of Kruss when a brother told me about it, but as my inner voice urged me to try the compound. The result is, I am back to normal. I am in as good shape as I ever was, although I had considered my case seemingly hopeless. Kruss may have an equal in the medical world, but I doubt it. Countless thousands in my State, as well as other races, are suffering as I was, not knowing that relief was within their reach.

Strangely enough, an important byproduct of Kruss compound comes from Africa. Ancient home of the Negro Race. European physicians say this substance acts directly and powerfully on lower spinal nerve centers, improving the circulation and producing a natural flow of the vital energies and nerve force within a few hours. Another ingredient is extracted in Europe. Others are prepared in America. All are combined in compressed tablets, warranted to contain no "dope" or illegal drugs.

Rev. G. R. Pinckney

Thousands have written in praise of Kruss. Among them are many persons prominent in business, social, professional and political circles of the Race.

Young folks who felt "old" too soon say Kruss has renewed their strength, vigor and gland activity. Men 40 to 65 declare the compound has made them truly "young" again.

The Rev. Mr. Pinckney ordered the Kruss compound from American distributors, the Molton laboratories, 5249 Molton Bldg., Kansas City, Mo. Knowing that thousands of enfeebled, "half-alive" folk would like to test such a remedy without risking their money, those laboratories have made the following unusual offer: If treatment of the compound is not entirely satisfactory, if you find the need of increased vigor, nerve force and gland activity simply fill out the coupon below and mail it, with or without the money, to the laboratories mentioned. The Kruss treatment will be sent to you in a plain, sealed wrapper, with the understanding that it is to cost you nothing if you report within 14 days that your are not satisfied.

"Let never hatred the white leather, neither let it lose dignity by the yellow streak. It is not affected with the flannel mouth. It is a dignified, but sensible, conservative newspaper, which does not sell to catch the passing breeze; flies no doubtful flags; is devoted to patriotism as broad as our country. Rest in this pure cause up and stand with us. This, ground is holy.

AIM AS IT INTERESTS THE PEOPLE OF DALLAS

It is the aim and purpose of the people of Dallas who will claim that these are some of the people here who are interested in art as it applies to the welfare of the city at large. But an experiment conducted at a low cost by the Dallas Chicago of this city has proven that to the most indifferent supporter of the race in Dallas who can examine the work showed this phase of art.

The experiment conducted lasted for three months and was given so well as students of the high and elementary schools. All of the students answered at least twenty-five of the questions and questions that were asked. Some of the interested has been published of them.

Aside from the opinion persons who entered the contest have voiced the opinion that they thought they did not enter with a chance to win the prizes offered.

This experiment, we feel has done a great deal of good in that it has given proof of a love of art of a few of Dallas' that has hitherto gone unnoticed, and it has given the people who are to be the leaders of tomorrow an opportunity to develop a love for art.

We feel it true that few if any of us have had opportunity to study art. But it is also true that several of the members of the race have developed themselves in this line and even if he is without means that he needed to know more about the knowledge of how to develop in this line, we need more opportunities to be given to those who have shown an interest and developed themselves on canvas.

Here and now is the needs, and seek to cultivate the richer finer things. It is not necessary at times when the brother of those of us who did not have the "real" culture becomes large enough to attract the attention of the world. To that number of those who have the "real" culture, however, we feel that we will be sure compelling. Such a number are not to be found everywhere as we seek more and more an opportunity to develop the faculties for obtaining such knowledge as it is the aim of the hundred questions on art that this contest, and the aim of the public of Dallas.

THE CHRISTIANIZATION OF MAKES GOOD

No one who had the opportunity to attend yesterday's services can help but be impressed with the appearance of the new edifice which has been erected by the Christianization of Mexico. The architecture of the building is of the most beautiful design and is considered by many as if by a miracle. Roads have been built and streets have been cut and burned, drainage ditches have been dug and pure water is straightened so as to give to the people the use of water for their every day needs.

Here was an instance of the "real" coming down of our beloved Christ to the people of the world and to the people for their benefit. It may here be said that those who are associated with the work in this line are unworthy of the confidence and support of the loved people. That there have been those who felt the need of the better things interested in the Christianization of Mexico, and who out the heart of Dallas to do it.

It is only to be hoped that this evidence of the good that such work is accomplishing and will be the means of creating the required funds to be applied to the needs that it has been in the past.

It would seem from the reports of the various conferences that nearly all of the churches of the nation are finding their way rather hard declining upon the questions of policy as they refer to the people generally.

The Baptists South have refused to discuss the Negro question with their Northern brethren; a certain percentage of the Methodist Episcopal Church fights the proposal to urge the passage of the Dyer Anti-lynching bill; the General Secretary of African Methodist raps the bobbing of hair by the women; and the bench of Methodist Episcopal Bishops agree on record as favoring the use of the dance, dancing and card playing by members of the church.

Certainly in the contemplation of the plight of them all there seems to be a great deal of uncertainty and obscurity. Not even in their uncertainty have they been able to find room for hope as far as the questions of vital importance to America are concerned.

Nowhere in the history of the church since the days just preceding the Civil War there has never been a time when the questions which immediately affected the race were so uppermost in the deliberations of church bodies. The discussion of the Dyer Bill means that in some way the question of the lynching of human beings has at last come to the attention of the church. We, of course think that it has never before come to such a point. But it must be remembered that our thoughts of religion are not of the same nature as that of our brethren in the church, that is, the most of them. But however it comes, we are glad that at last the church of our countenances have been brought to the point of discussing it.

As to the lifting of the ban on dancing in the Methodist Church we of course cannot have much to say. Our pastors and bishops have not yet reached the place that they can dictate unto their people in matters of this character as the Methodist Church. It can be said here however that there is much room for the attitude of the church to become more near to active competition with the forces of evil in its attempt to overcome them. In the matter of dancing, our churches and pastors are rather adamant; but they have not as yet brought their people to the point of giving up the frivolousness of a modern day, therefore they find it hard to contend.

The ban that has been placed by the A. M. E. Church on bobbed hair will come to naught. There is no earthly way that the women can be driven from cutting their hair if Dame Fashion decrees that it looks better short. Bishops must realize this and their pronouncements take the form of a resolution only.

The Baptists of the South have refused to discuss the Negro question with their Northern brethren because they say that such procedure would only complicate a situation that is already acute. The Northern Baptists have refused to have no discussion of the question at all. They feel of course that they have the Negro better than any of their brothers and that settled the question.

There is little to say about this particular question, because the Southern Baptists and their own Colored brothers seem to be getting along very well. At least the Colored brethren have not thought it necessary to withdraw from the church because the Southern brethren because they say that such procedure would only complicate a situation that is already acute

DALLAS LODGES DENOUNCE ANTI-WILLIS AGITATION AND PASS RESOLUTIONS ENDORSING HIS ADMINISTRATION

Grand Chancellor W. S. Willis presided in the State on a similar occasion. He said that the Grand Lodge now has lowest cost to beneficiary members of the order since about $160.00 This helped those who were left in the home during the Fythian Temple. It was the occasion of his annual visit to the Dallas Lodges. The meeting was open for the public and a large crowd was present. He told how our home had been built by loyal Knights in Dallas. The First Regiment band rendered splendid music for the occasion, and the Uniform Rank was out in full regalia. A feature of the evening was the presence of the Cadet Corps, composed of more than a score of boys, the future Knights and Ladies of the order, dressed in their uniforms, made a fine appearance as they attended the meeting in a body in the Dallas Rank. The Grand Chancellor's address was full of good counsel and sympathy. It was interesting to see them this early in the day and predicted for them a very brilliant future as the brave Knights of tomorrow.

The Grand Chancellor was in fine form, and made one of the best speeches he has delivered in Dallas. The boys were with him, and are adjusted with greater and greater confidence as he progresses. He was provided with his address like he always does, and he delivered it in a very impressive manner. He said that what has been done in the past is not enough, that there is more of what is to be done in the future.

Attorney W. H. Griggs obtained the floor and made a few remarks. Grand Chancellor Willis then introduced Hon. Rosco Simmons, deliverer of the famous Knights of Honor address, who was introduced by Hon. Rosco Simmons, deliverer of the famous Knights of Honor address, who was introduced by "His Excellency" in the days of Texas Field Day, Wednesday, June 4th.

Mr. Simmons said:

"Bro" he declared amid uproarious laughter, "I have never had a show and the facts are that not a single member of the Grand Lodge has been issued either directly or indirectly, to Grand Lodge officers; and no Grand Lodge officer has ever permitted horse either in front of our funds if he desired to do so.

He read a comparative statement taken from the official files of the Insurance Department at Austin, showing that the Fythians pay a less mere average to the membership and more invested in Texas than any Texas fraternal organization operating in Texas.

Grand Chancellor Willis, this afternoon, this splendid address to the Grand Lodge and the Grand Jurisdiction the biggest in Texas and in membership, in finance and in membership, and to the order everywhere, and to the order everywhere, money for the benefit of our people show that to be the case. Let us do it right place. We hereby express to the world our confidence implicit in his leadership, and we want it that the Knights of Fythias of Texas are behind him to the last man, and to the last dollar, and to help wage war, on account of private or political grievances, against the Grand Chancellor.

Resolved that these resolutions be published in the press of the city, and that a copy be furnished to the Grand Chancellor.

The K. of P.'s are going to make the New Orleans meeting one to look like 10 cents. You'll soon hear more from Texas Knights of Fythias.

EXPRESS EDITOR SPEAKS TO PLANO GRADUATES

PLANO, TEXAS, May 24.—A large and appreciative audience was present at the graduating exercises of the Plano High School which this year graduated a class of Fythian Knights of Pool. Philip Hicks, well known in Dallas.

The exercise which were held in the Opera House, were conducted in the extreme. Good music and well rendered essays by the members of the graduating class were features of the day. The class was addressed by those who were present.

The address of the evening was delivered by Editor John W. Hoo of the Dallas Express, which was filled with sane and sensible admonition to graduates and people. The subject "Opportunity awaits you but must be willing to work" was greatly study to perform some noble deed. Mr. Hoo said in part: "Success that luck and success will not give to you the opportunity to show to advantage the things that you are able to do."

In commending the parents of the children who were members of the graduating class and those of the children still in school he said: "Parents and guardians should be proud in the way of an education, but it is the best investment you can make. Do not be content with having them finish this school only but give them special training so that will enable them to engage successfully with the world into which they are soon to go. You must score a line in the history of the race when our children will have the benefit of surrounding you have had. Your children of little value to mankind unless they excel to move of them striving for honorable success at least they will be looted for in our people should. Such investments as the business sturdy of the teaching. It must be remembered that money from which our children will reap the benefit. Thus only will you be sure that we so confidently hope for."

The diplomas were presented to the class by Doctor W. P. Aldridge, President of the Board of Education, who in a well worded speech addressed the parents to take greater interest in the work of the school.

There were seven members of the graduating class. In addition to the regular course studies rendered by the pupils of the school, the Misses Hicks and Miss Hall each rendered several selections to all of which they were forced to respond to encores.

The party will leave Dallas on the Texas Special, June 28, and will be joined by others at Houston, Galveston and Beaumont. The cruise will last 28 days, and will be limited to 400 persons. Reservations are now being made, and the party is nearly ready for the start.
